BABUSHAHI.COM • NEWS REPORT

Punjab State Information Commission Marks Constitution Day with a Tribute to Constitutional Values

By: Babushahi Bureau & Amrit Pal Sidhu | Published: Friday, Nov 27, 2026, 06:36 AM

26th November 2026, Chandigarh

Constitution Day was commemorated today at the Punjab State Information Commission, Chandigarh, with a meaningful reflection on the significance of the Constitution of India, its foundational values and its role in upholding the dignity, rights and freedoms of citizens.

Marking the occasion, the volumes of the Constitution of India were placed in the Library of the Punjab State Information Commission as a valuable addition to its institutional collection.

Chief Information Commissioner Punjab, Inderpal Singh Dhanna, highlighted that the Constitution of India upholds the dignity of every citizen and remains the cornerstone of democratic values, justice.

State Information Commissioners Virinderjit Singh Billing, Dr. Bhupinder S Batth and Harpreet Sandhu were also part event held in Information Commission Chandigarh.

Harpreet Sandhu, State Information Commissioner Punjab, stated that Constitution Day serves as a clarion call to protect, uphold and cherish the ideals enshrined in the Constitution of India.

It reminds every citizen of their duty to contribute towards building a just, equitable and inclusive society, thereby honoring the vision and legacy of the framers of our Constitution and further observed that Constitution Day provides an important opportunity for the relevant authorities to reaffirm their commitment to ensuring equal, universal and accessible justice for all, particularly for the poor, disadvantaged and marginalised sections of society, so that constitutional guarantees translate into meaningful justice and dignity for every citizen.

Inderpal Singh Dhanna, Chief Information Commissioner Punjab placed the constitution of India volume in the commission library.

Source: Babushahi Bureau (Nov 27, 2026)